WNC is required by law, and will, notify law enforcement agencies when it becomes aware of the presence of child pornography on, or being transmitted through, its services.

Privacy

WNC is concerned with the privacy of on-line communications and Web sites. In general, the Internet is neither more nor less secure than other means of communication, including mail, facsimile, and voice telephone service, all of which can be intercepted and otherwise compromised. As a matter of prudence, however, WNC urges its customers to assume that all of their on-line communications are insecure. WNC cannot take any responsibility for the security of information transmitted over WNC's facilities.

Customer Responsibility

Customers are required to use the WNC network responsibly. This includes respecting the other customers of WNC. WNC reserves the right to suspend and/or cancel service with any customer who uses the WNC network in such a way that adversely affects other WNC customers. While WNC may monitor its service electronically to determine that its facilities are operating satisfactorily, as a general practice, WNC does not monitor its customers' communications or activities to determine whether they are in compliance with the TOU. However, when WNC becomes aware of any violation of the TOU or other user agreements, WNC may take any action to stop or correct such violation, including, but not limited to, denying access to WNC's services and equipment or to the Internet. In addition, WNC may take action against a customer or a customer of such customer because of the activities of such customer. WNC anticipates that customers who offer Internet services will cooperate with WNC in any corrective or preventive action that WNC deems necessary. Failure to cooperate with such corrective or preventive measures is a violation of WNC policy and WNC reserves the right to take any such action even though such action may affect other customers of the WNC customer.

Actions Taken by WNC

The failure by a customer to meet or follow any of the TOU is grounds for account deactivation. WNC will be the sole arbiter as to what constitutes a violation of the TOU. WNC reserves the right to remove any account without prior notice and to refuse service to anyone at any time. When WNC becomes aware of an alleged violation of its TOU, WNC will initiate an investigation. During the investigation, WNC may restrict a customer's access in order to prevent further potentially unauthorized activity. Depending on the severity of the violation, WNC may, at its sole discretion, restrict, suspend, or terminate a customer's Web hosting account and/or pursue other civil remedies. If such violation is a criminal offense, WNC will notify the appropriate law enforcement authorities of such violation. An unlisted activity may also be a violation of the TOU if it is illegal, irresponsible, or constitutes disruptive use of the Internet. WNC does not issue credits for outages incurred through service disablement resulting from TOU violations. Violators of the policy are responsible, without limitations, for the cost of labor to rectify any damage done to the operation of the network and business operations supported by the network, and to respond to complaints incurred by WNC.
